

YOWLING "BUSTER," IN BAG,
LEAVES COURT AS "VASSER"

Mongrel Pup Miss Starbuck Rescued
Awarded to Actress After Hearing
Lasting an Hour.

Nearly a whole hour was consumed in Yorkville Court today in deciding who should have possession of a homely brown and black dog that Miss Ellen Starbuck found starving last July in Central Park. She took the stray to her home, No. 44 West Fifty-eighth Street, and advertised for the owner, but no one applied for the mongrel bled of but pup and fox terrier. She named him Buster.

Miss Starbuck was stopped in Sixth Avenue last Friday by Julius von Schiller, late yeoman, U. S. N. He said he had raised the dog to be the mascot of the battleship New Jersey and, on his retirement, had given him to Mrs. Alexandra Viarda, an actress. Mrs. Viarda hastened from the Grand Hotel to court and got a summons for Miss Starbuck, who took the dog before the bar in a thick black bag, so that no one could see him while trying to describe him. During the proceedings Buster kept up a constant yowl from the depths of the bag. Magistrate Wylie awarded the pup to Mrs. Viarda. Miss Starbuck offered to buy him. Madame shook her head.

"No," she said. "I shall keep him. His name is Vasser, not Buster. I cannot live without Vasser."

BURGLAR ESCAPES TWICE.

Mrs. Daniel Collins, wife of the janitor of the office building at No. 86 Maiden Lane, saw a man at work at the safe of Isaac Kubie & Co., Importers, on the third floor last night. She ran downstairs screaming for her husband, who chased the man to South and Roosevelt Streets into the arms of Policeman Wagner of the Oak Street Station.

The prisoner said he was Michael Prato, a printer, of No. 21 Mott Street. Wagner took him back to the Kubie office and found that he had robbed the safe of $13.25 in money and stamps. Fifty-two thousand dollars' worth of negotiable securities had been overlooked.

Prato, though handcuffed, twisted away from Wagner's grip at the door of the Old Slip station and ran down South Street. Wagner fired two shots. Prato hid on a pier, and it took Wagner and three other policemen half an hour to find him. He was held for trial today by Magistrate Nolan in Centre Street Court.

Child Falls From Window to Death.
Julius Taxler, twenty-two months old, fell from a window on the fifth story of an apartment house at No. 113 East One Hundred and Twenty-sixth Street, shortly after noon today and was instantly killed. The child climbed to a chair and leaned on a pillow, which his mother had placed in the window for sliding. The pillow slipped and the little fellow was carried with it to the alley below.

Spring Fashions of Modish Design

For Women of Stout and Extra Sizes

STOUT women have learned that they can be fitted in ready-to-wear apparel at Macy's. An extensive collection of Spring fashions for large women is gathered here, embodying all the style tendencies of the new season, executed with a dignified conservatism appropriate to full figures and designed to give the long, straight lines that dominate fashionable apparel.

Dresses That Feature the Straight Line Mode

There are dresses of taffetas, satins, Georgette crepes, spring serges, voiles and silk and wool poplins, variously trimmed with metal thread embroidery, silk embroideries, beading, soutache braid, silk stitching, hemstitching and tucks, pleats and gathers. The colors are navy, taupe, plum, Copenhagen and plenty of black dresses.

Good Looking Coats

Stout women find such satisfaction in coats that give a straight, unbroken line from shoulders to hem, preferring them in almost every instance to the form fitting garments considered proper heretofore.

An excellent coat of navy or black gabardine has trimmings of self material, long huge pockets; a wash confines the fullness at the waistline; deep roll collar with silk overcollar; set-in sleeves with turn-back cuffs. Lined throughout with self color peau de cygne. $39.75

Sizes 42 1/2 to 52 1/2. Prices of coats, $23.74 to $39.75

—Third Floor, Broadway—

Blouses in Large Variety

There are suits of mannish stripes, serges, gabardines, mixtures and twills.
